MEDIA RELEASE

Markets, Music and More

AS TOOWOOMBA gets ready to burst into bloom, the ever popular Toowoomba Handmade markets are set to add a splash of colour with a bunch of stalls showcasing the region's top creatives.

The Toowoomba Handmade markets will be on as part of the inaugural Celebration Creation day at St Luke's Church and Hall on the corner Ruthven and Herries Streets, from 8am until 2pm.

The markets will be sprawled through the hall and church grounds with a superb selection of quality handmade products and gourmet food.

For the kids there will be face painting, balloon animals and hopefully some cute and cuddly animals from Wattamurra Farm.

There is an exciting line-up for talented musicians that will perform in the church and hall, including Toowoomba's own talented Kerryanne Richter.

In the church there will be displays from local groups on the environmental theme, including Wattamurra Farm, Angli-green, Nature Direct and HOPE Toowoomba.

This will be a great family day out and a chance to get a last minute gift for Father's Day with refreshments and a barbeque lunch available.
